

Dance

of the world on one stage

The Sibu International Dance Festival is set to make its comeback this August. Organised by Hornland Dance Theatre, the festival is entering its 6th year and will yet again see a gathering of dancers from many different parts of the world under one roof in Sibu, Sarawak, Malaysia.

Sibu International Dance Festival 2017 is scheduled for Aug 29 to Sept 2. All kinds of dance will be showcased at the festival, anything from traditional to modern, ballet to hip hop. Performers will be of various races and cultures, and of different age groups.

Throughout the length of the festival, visitors will not only get to see some of the most engaging dance performances at their nightly dance concerts at the Sibu Civic Centre, but they will be able to join some of the other activities as well.

Outdoor site-specific performances have been scheduled for Aug 30 at Ku Tien Memorial Park, while dance workshops will be held in the afternoon on Aug 31 and Sept 1 at RH Hotel, just adjacent to Wisma Sanyan. Dance seminars will be held in the morning on Aug 30 and 31, while interaction and roundtable sessions are scheduled for Sept 1 and 2. Both of these will also be held at RH Hotel.

Sibu International Dance Festival aims to become a world platform for artists and art organisations of local, regional and international levels to exchange dialogues, concepts, experiments, explorations and the display of just how diverse dances can be. It is also aimed at facilitating the growth of tourism, art and culture in the region.
